If you have a bag lunch there are some great tables and areas to eat on Broadway by Katie Gingrass Gallery and near MIAD and the fountain area near the bus. Take a look at some of these while you're on your own exploring:

- Broadway Paper, has a fabulous collection of papers and craft ideas for using them. On corner of Broadway and Chicago. www.broadwaypaper.com
- Discover other Galleries, there are other galleries in and around the Third Ward. Discover your own and explore.
- Artasia Gallery, just down the block from Broadway Paper interesting artifacts from Asia. www.artasiamilwaukee.com
- Architecture this is not a place, but rather an invitation to notice the beautiful architectural details around you. This is one of the most historic neighborhoods in Milwaukee. Sketch and photograph what you see. Read the signs for clues to the past including the great fire and more.
- ARTWALK there are a number of sculptures throughout the Third Ward that are officially part of ARTWALK. See how many you can sketch or photograph.
- Shop Decorations many of the shops have interesting designs and window decorations. (Anthropologie is one of my favs !)
- The River Front and other fountains there are water features sprinkled throughout the Third Ward including the river itself. You can walk along the river walk near Water Street.
- Milwaukee Public Market as mentioned earlier this is a great place to eat, but it's also a great place to sketch, people watch and shoot photos. Kind of dark inside so make sure the camera is set to a wide-open aperture.
- PHOTO WARNING: Make sure you ask before you take photos. Some galleries and stores do not want you to shoot photos in them. Make sure it is ok before you start taking photos.
- iPods and Cell Phones: It is ok with me if you have both for this day. I'd actually prefer that you have your cell phone so I can contact you. They iPod needs to be put away during all tours and gallery visits.

YOUR ASSIGNMENT:

In the Galleries at MIAD and others (when I'm with you)

Part One: Choose 3 works of art that you saw today. Sketch/or Photograph them and tell what attracted you to the piece. Describe the elements and principles of design you saw present in the work. What is the strongest thing about the work? What is the least effective thing about the artwork? What is the title of the artwork? Who is the artist? What media was used? Post this to your blog by the end of class Monday, October 6th. (if you sketched images make sure you scan them and post them too!)

On Your Own (when you go off to lunch or throughout the day)

Part Two: Sketch or photograph at least 3 things (I'm sure you'll find lots more) you find inspiring and interesting from a creative point of view. Tell why you think these items/places/people are so interesting and unique. Explain and answer the following: What drew you to them? How do they make you feel? Have you seen anything like it before? Why did you choose it? Who/What does it remind you of? Post your images and comments on blog by the end of class on Monday, October 6th. (if you sketched images make sure you scan them and post them too!)
